Hi Kelly.

My concern is that the needs of the disabled be wholeheartedly considered by offering:

...one story apts. that are on the ground floor ...placement of light switches, plugs, windows, bathrooms, kitchens, etc.

...sidewalks, streetlights, signage

( much more than a few disabled parking spaces)

I must believe that some units will accommodate those with special needs.

I do not want to be more involved or speak publicly about this. Professionals can and will manage these issues effectively. I just wanted to be the squeaky wheel via an email and no more.
